

ENFOCUS SWITCH CONFIGURATOR MODULE

The Switch Configurator Module allows you to integrate external applications (such as Adobe Creative Suite/Cloud, HP Indigo, PitStop Server...) into your Switch flows, in order to further automate complex workflows.

This module enables the so-called “configurators” — flow elements that streamline the connection to the third-party applications. Configurators behave in the same way as the other flow elements and built-in tools in Switch and can be configured from within Switch. Because Switch takes full control of the setup and the automation of the applications, it's very easy to use with any supported application.

Currently, there are many configurators available for a variety of applications in different technologies, e.g. preflight, imposition, color management, web-to-print, image optimization, document archiving, etc. In addition to the configurators that are installed with Switch, you can also download many more from the Crossroads website (www.crossroads-world.com) for free. New configurators are being added on a regular basis by partners.

Further, if you have specific needs, you can integrate any existing or legacy application through hot folders, CLI (command line) or scripting interfaces.

HOW IT WORKS

Configurators allow you to process files using third-party applications from within a Switch workflow. Upon successful completion of a task, the files continue on through the flow for further processing.

In combination with the Metadata Module or the Database Module, the third-party applications can be configured by metadata coming from external sources to which those applications have no access on their own. This dramatically increases the power and flexibility of your workflow.

Switch is the solution that sticks all the third-party applications together, enabling end-to-end automation — even with applications that have no automation built in.

TAKE ADVANTAGE OF PROVEN TECHNOLOGIES FROM INDUSTRY LEADERS

Switch is integrated with numerous third-party applications that are in widespread use across the printing, publishing and graphics industries.
